

Thriftmart Announces Chainwide Sale To Celebrate 30th Birthday

Roger M. Laverty Sr. President of Thriftmart, Inc., announces the celebration of Thriftmart's 30th Anniversary with a huge chainwide sale in all 56 units.

Laverty reflects on 30 years of enormous growth and success and predicts even more successful strides in the future. Some 30 years ago, Laverty was at that time vice-president of the central division of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., and a group of his associates from A&P purchased what was then known as Fitzsimmons Stores, Ltd.

Thriftmart's expansion first began in 1939 through acquisition and merger, then acquiring nine Thriftmarts and subsequently acquiring 17 Roberts markets in 1949.

In 1955 Thriftmart acquired the Smart & Final Iris Co., which operates as a wholesale division. The company officially adopted the name Thriftmart, Inc. in 1957. The Thriftmart retail operation has 56 supermarkets, 47 of which are located in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, two in Bakersfield, one in Lancaster, one in Riverside, one in the San Bernardino-Cotton area, and two in Las Vegas, Nev.

THE PRESENT expansion of Thriftmart has six new markets under construction (two in San Diego), with 17 more under some degree of planning or purchase. Also, on the docket for future plans is the remodeling of some of the older units. All of the Thriftmart units feature the following departments: grocery, meat, produce, dairy, delicatessen, bakery, liquor, household, soft goods and health and beauty aids. All departments, in most markets, are self-service and have single check-out points.

To supply the huge volume of merchandise to the 56 units, Thriftmart owns and operates a fresh produce warehouse, a liquor warehouse, a delicatessen kitchen, and a meat plant for processing, storing and distributing certain meat products. Dairy products — eggs, frozen foods — are supplied by Jerseymaid Milk Products Co., in which Thriftmart, Inc., owns a partnership interest.

SMART & FINAL Iris Co., Thriftmart's wholesale grocery division, with a warehouse floor space of over 374,000 square feet, supplies the greater portion of the company's grocery business with warehouses in Vernon and Phoenix, serving more than 2500 independent accounts with 84 cash and carry units, who in turn, serve the needs of outlying merchants, restaurants, hospitals, hotels and other types of institutional buyers.

Thirty years ago Thriftmart employed more than 150 people, their employees now number more than three thousand. Laverty recognizes the needs and future requirements of his employees and has instituted many employee benefit programs in the Thriftmart chain. Some of these include company financed hospital, medical, and surgical insurance, contributory life insurance, industry financed retirement plan for hourly workers, and a profit sharing plan for salary employees.

LAVERTY believes that 30 successful years are an indication of what can be accomplished through individual and collective initiative. Thriftmart has successfully served the consumers of the West, offering superior quality of products, courteous service, low competitive prices. Customers' interests have been of paramount importance to Thriftmart at all times.

The future of Thriftmart is integrated with its planned expansion. Some thirty years ago, the total yearly sales of Thriftmart was slightly over three million dollars. Today, a great majority of the individual Thriftmart units do over three million dollars per year. The sales this year for Thriftmart will approximate one hundred eighty million dollars.

THRIFTMART is 46th in rank among the top 50 largest merchandising firms in sales, 47th in assets, and 47th in invested capital, as published by Fortune Magazine in August, 1959. Significantly, Thriftmart ranks 22nd in the matter of net profit, as a per cent of invested capital.

The Thriftmart market chain will have a month-long celebration of greatly reduced prices through all departments of their markets, highlighting 30 years of successful operation.
